EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the Claims:

Claim 26 is re-presented as follows:

-- 26. (Original) A rotor for a rotary-wing aircraft, the rotor assembly comprising:

a central member;

a plurality of blade attachment members adapted for attaching rotor blades to the central member, the blade attachment members being pivotally attached to the central member and capable of pivoting about a pivot axis generally normal to a plane of rotation of the blades, the pivoting allowing for in-plane motion of the blades relative to the central member; and a damper having a housing and a piston movably carried within the housing, the piston having fluid passages therethrough and valve means for controlling the flow of fluid through at least one of the passages, the piston being sealingly connected to an inner surface of the housing with deformable elements, the deformable elements allowing movement of the piston relative to the housing through elastic shearing of the deformable elements, the deformable elements also being deformable by a force exerted by the piston on a fluid in communication with the deformable elements through bulging deformation of the deformable elements, the valve means allowing for selective switching between a first spring rate, in which elastic shearing provides a dominant spring force, and a second spring rate, in which bulging deformation provides the dominant spring force;

wherein each damper is operably connected to an inner end of each blade attachment member for damping the in-plane motion of the associated blade. --

Claim 26 has been re-presented in order to ensure that when printing the claim, the phrase "The Applicants submit that the foregoing amendments add no new matter to the application." (which occurs at the end of claim 26) is not included as a part of the claim.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Christopher Verdier whose telephone number is (571) 272-4824. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday from 10:00-6:30.
